1657 Flushing Remonstrance
Wee are bounde by the law to do good unto all men, especially to those of the household of faith. And though for the present we seem to be unsensible for the law and the Law giver, yet when death and the Law assault us, if wee have our advocate to seeke, who shall plead for us in this case of conscience betwixt God and our own souls; the powers of this world can neither attach us, neither excuse us, for if God justifye who can condemn and if God condemn there is none can justifye.

Before the 2020 election there was a short video on the internet showing President Trump Being President for the year's 2024-2028-2032-ETC.
And this is a true story of how long he will be president of these united states.

Why you ask
Because he has limited power as the Commander in Chief of this country.
If he exceeds this power he will become a dictator?
Now why is the people in the Jan 6 still in jail.
The military has no power to intervene in this cause or any cause in this conflict?
They only step in and do an action to protect our constitution.
Or else their action will be a military coup
So who does have the power.
It's the people in these States.
The only way to end this insurrection By law is to address your states congress by petition or a remonstrance.
Now we all know how corrupt these people are.
Especially Michigan.
And my beautiful relation with them?
And also (I) we have to stay in line with the constitutional restraints.
But this is also a disadvantage to end this action the Insurrection.
So in come's the The Flushing Remonstrance of 1657
The whole base of this is our God given rights.
And it precedes our constitution and the law of war manual.
So I started with a clean Sheet and the first thing on it was Remonstrance
And then it was built with the needs that we needed address today.
And there is a couple of constitution laws inserted.
And also part of the law of war manual.
In Michigan this was presented and accepted by default of response?
This remonstrance is Reciprocal to the other 49 states and territory of this country?
Give President Trump back his full power.

And let the Military go be the best they can.
If you would really like to release the Jan 6 prisoners.
You The People of these States Have this Power and no one else on this planet can help you rise up and peacefully Speak
to those around You!
And when we End this insurrection
We then can restore our Constitution
And start Building This Constitutional Republic on a clean Base!
We The People of these States Have this Power and no one else on this planet can help Us
rise up and peacefully Speak
to those around You
Ps this insurrection and also the Remonstrance suspend all elections until the insurrection is over and the Remonstrance removes the biden electrical college votes and all of the bad actors and their staff.
And For Justice
Expunge The first and second impeachment Of President Trump suspended elections
This is why President Trumps video Showed 2024-2028-2032 etc.
it was a clue and a big reveal

See DR John response's

NOW that is a rich and complete statement of what was, what is and what needs to be!

Well done Robert! Well done. In each state we need people to do as you did in Michigan'. What you did was not witch craft or some magic act, but the legal/lawful act of reclaiming citizens rights on behalf of all patriots in each state. WE are the solution and only WE the people of each individual state can make such a claim.

Robert has lit the path and he gives ample examples of documents and procedures to follow on his WEB site. Enter his name on the internet and you will find everything you need.

Don't do it alone talk to each other here and else where. Together you can figure out how this is done and how to do it.

Look up his link

What he speaks of is REAL Below is a link to a 1657 Remonstrance; an earnest presentation of reasons, opposing or sharing a grievance, a formal document stating the points of such.

Below is a link to a 1657 remonstrance addressing the leaders of the time. This is an old and well established process that stands in the courts and will stand in political halls.

Read what Robert has so eloquently written again again and again until it sinks in! Go to the link at the bottom of the post read what is there and then gather a few good friends and go over it together, YOU do not have to do this alone. Work as a team to understand and for GOD sake ask question of Robert. Look to his examples. He is not trying to rule you or overthrow you, but to lead you down the path he has created through his example.

All of us want this to end, all of us want to be free. This is the HOW and unlike a war with guns, this takes so little effort and is no real risk. The worst that can happen is you will be seen as a hero!

You will be forever listed in history as the one(s) that took the first step toward freeing your state.

I will be pulling together friends and starting work on this effort for the state of Missouri, where not the worst state, it is not free of the Deep State and needs to be won back by submitting papers to the state as Robert has laid out.

Join us and list the state YOU and your friends will be soliciting with papers of freedom! Once the ball starts rolling let your relatives in other states know how it is done so they took can go down in the history books as freedom fighters. And all with out firing a single shot Make no mistake this will be heard around the world! This is big and you and your friends can make it MUCH bigger!

Our Remonstrance And Our Standing in Military Law

DoD Law of War Manual - June 2015 Updated Dec 2016

PREFACE This manual is a Department of Defense (DoD)-wide resource for DoD personnel – including commanders, legal practitioners, and other military and civilian personnel – on the law of war.

17.4.3 Special Courts. As part of its emergency regulations, a State may establish special or emergency courts for cases involving unprivileged belligerents or other persons suspected of committing offenses related to the non-international armed conflict. Such courts must be regularly constituted and afford all the judicial guarantees that are recognized as indispensable by civilized peoples. 84 Such courts may distinguish based on nationality.85 The procedures of such courts may deviate from those applicable during ordinary proceedings, but deviations should be warranted by practical need.86

82 For example, David Galula, Pacification in Algeria, 1956-1958, 21 (RAND Corporation, 2006) ("I*n the existing legal framework, proclamation of martial law was the only provision in case of disturbances endangering the security of the state. It would have entailed handing over all powers to the military authority and suspending private and public liberties. Government and Parliament considered this step too extreme. Hence they devised a new contingency, the so-called 'state of emergency*,' which was declared for the first time for the Constantine area and for Kabylia in April 1955, and was extended to all Algeria in August 1955. Parliament voted a Special Powers Act (with the support of the Communists!), which gave the government a free hand for conducting its policy in Algeria by decree, notably in matters pertaining to economic development, economic and social reforms, territorial reorganization, public order, security of persons and property, and protection of the integrity of the territory. These special powers were vested in the existing government and would lapse with the end of its incumbency; the succeeding government would have to request an extension from the Parliament. The government in turn gave authority to the Minister-Resident (who by then had replaced the Governor General in Algiers) to regulate movements of persons and goods, assign places of residence, create forbidden zones, order searches, ban meetings, control the press, dissolve associations, collect reparations for willful damage and for aid given to the rebels, suspend or transfer civil servants, deprive elected representatives of their seats, postpone by-elections, and delegate certain civil powers to the military. Travel between France and Algeria was made subject to strict control (at least in theory)."); FRANK KITSON, GANGS AND COUNTER-GANGS 44 (1960) ("The legal code in Kenya in October 1952 was not very different from that in England. Certain acts such as theft or murder were illegal and if you committed them you were prosecuted. When the Emergency started some extra laws were made to fit the special circumstances. For example, it became illegal to administer the Mau Mau oath or to carry arms and certain areas of the forest were placed out of bounds. These extra laws, and there were many of them, were known as Emergency Regulations."). 83 For example, FRANK KITSON, GANGS AND COUNTER-GANGS 289 (1960) ("No country which relies on the law of the land to regulate the lives of its citizens can afford to see that law flouted by its own government, even in an insurgency situation. In other words everything done by a government and its agents in combating insurgency must be legal. But this does not mean that the government must work within exactly the same set of laws during an insurgency as existed beforehand, because it is a function of a government when necessary. It does not mean that the law must be administered in exactly the same way during an uprising as it was in more peaceful times, because once again a government has the power to modify the way in which the law is administered if necessary, for the well being of the people, although the exercise of such power is usually – and rightly – subject to considerable constitutional restraint."). 84 Refer to § 8.16 (Criminal Procedure and Punishment). 85 For example, 10 U.S.C. § 948b ("(a) Purpose. – This chapter establishes procedures governing the use of military commissions to try alien unprivileged enemy belligerents for violations of the law of war and other offenses triable by military commission.") (emphasis added proceedings, but deviations should be warranted by practical need.86
